ROSSY DE PALMA - BIOGRAPHY

Rossy De Palma, an emblematic actress of Spanish cinema, was revealed to the general public by Pedro Almodovar in 1986 in The Law of Desire; with him she starred in Women on the verge of a nervous breakdown (1988), Tie me up! (1989), Kika (1993), The Flower of my Secret (1995), Broken Embraces (2009), Julietta (2016), Madres Paralelas (2021)... Her film career became international in 1990, under the direction of Robert Altman Prêt à Porter (1994), Mike Figgis The Loss of Sexual Innocence (1999), Karim Dridi Foul Play (1998), Patrice Leconte Do Not Disturb (2014), Mehdi Charef Graziella (2015), Amanda Sthers Madame (2017), Terry Gilliam The Man Who Killed Don Quixote (2018) or more recently Benjamin Millepied Carmen (2022).

A multidisciplinary artist and fashion muse, Rossy de Palma's rebellious yet endearing personality has seduced many designers in Haute Couture, Music, Photography and the Arts from around the world. From New York to Paris, she is also acclaimed on great stages of Theatre and Opera.

A loyal friend of the Cannes Film Festival, Rossy De Palma was a member of the Official Jury in 2015 under the presidency of Joel and Ethan Cohen and President of the Caméra d'Or in 2022.

Rossy de Palma has inspired renowned photographers, regularly presented at Paris Photo, such as Alberto Garcia Alix, Pierre & Gilles, Richard Avedon, Roxane Lowit, Ouka Leele and of course Gorka Postigo.

PORTRAIT BY GORKA POSTIGO - PHOTOGRAPHER

Illustrating this special collaboration with Paris Photo, Spanish artist Gorka Postigo's 2018 photograph for the Spanish edition of Vogue magazine was chosen by the Paris Photo team at the suggestion of Rossy de Palma. Gorka Postigo studied architecture between Madrid and Milan. After his formative years, he focused on photography, more specifically on fashion and documentary photography. Evolving in a world of romanticism and weirdness, his portraits play with fantasy, beauty, art history and a touch of the absurd. Both cinematic and graphic, Gorka's photographs are visually striking and playful.
